Serena Corti, Deputy Consul General and Executive Director of the Department for Business and Trade (DBT) in Italy

To all visitors, exhibitors and buyers, a very warm welcome to Cosmoprof Worldwide Bologna 2023, the most influential global event dedicated to the beauty industry.

The Department for Business and Trade (DBT), which I jointly lead in Italy, is actively committed to supporting UK businesses, especially in sectors of great importance to our trading relationship, such as the Beauty and Cosmetics Sector.

Based on data from the UK National Statistics, the UK's global exports in the Beauty Sector were worth £2.6 billion during the period January-November 2022 and these products rank 17th in the top 20 UK export industries. The cosmetics industry plays a key role in boosting the value of UK trade. Innovation and creativity are at the heart of this vibrant sector which has a lot to offer to both local and international consumers. We see huge potential for the UK beauty industry in Italy as the country has one of the largest cosmetics markets worldwide. In 2021 Italy was the third leading market for cosmetics products in Europe and it is home to a high concentration of independent shops, store chains, beauty and hair salons and spas.

Added to this, there is also a growing Italian e-commerce market and a particular interest in sustainable products, both strengths of the UK industry.

DBT and its Italy team are supporting the UK presence with a DBT stand at the UK Pavilion organised by Cosmoprof, facilitating business introductions between UK companies and local and international stakeholders. We believe that trade shows such as Cosmoprof Worldwide Bologna are vital in supporting and boosting trade relations between the UK and the EU, which are longstanding and strong – in this sector and many others.

I hope that you enjoy your visit to Bologna and I wish your company a successful event.

Absolute Collagen is the UKs leading collagen business. As the original collagen experts, we know just how important collagen is. We're on a mission to empower our customers (Absoluters) to feel their absolute best, starting with the most concentrated collagen supplement in a ready to take 10ml sachet. We're tremendously proud of our award-winning products. The results speak for themselves with thousands of five-star reviews from happy 'Absoluters' and over 25 million doses (and counting!) sold. Recently we have expanded our range to include skincare and haircare products where collagen is our hero, all of which have won multiple awards since launch.
